

ANCIENT GREECE AND ROME PROJECT SYLLABUS

ASSIGNMENT: To create a “Keynote Presentation” on the specific topic you were assigned. This Keynote project, when presented, will help your classmates to learn important information on your topic. The students will be responsible on writing down a few answers to questions

ASSIGNMENT RATIONALE: For the units of Greece and Rome I wanted to take a different approach on how you will learn the information about each of these highly successful ancient civilizations. I wanted to take you from a more passive role of you learning all of the information through me and my lectures to you being responsible for becoming a “Mini expert” on your specific topic and helping your classmates to understand what you have learned through your presentation. I have assigned the topics I felt were most important to your understanding of these civilizations.

Steps to completing your Project:

1. Receive Topic and Clarification on what you are to research related to it.
2. Begin the research Process. You must handwrite your notes on the yellow sheets or you may type them into the “Moodle Notes” program. Each of the sources you used to obtain these notes MUST be cited. The source for the information used for each slide will be listed at the bottom of each Keynote slide. All graphics must also have a cited source pasted in just below the image.
3. Turn your written research into paragraphs or bullet points containing your own words. This information is to be presented in a manner to your classmates that will be helpful in building their understanding of your topic. If you do not understand what some of your information from your notes means, then you must seek clarification or research it a little further until it becomes clear to you. Remember, if you do not understand your information it is quite likely that your class mates will not as well!
4. Begin to design the layout of your Keynote Presentation. Pay attention to background colors and how the text will show up against this. Utilize graphics and effects and transitions in a way that will enhance the appearance of your project. It is okay to include a brief (less than a minute) segment of a video or audio clip into your Keynote as well.
5. Create individual slides that contain no more than one topic per card. For instance, if you are covering the olympics, don’t discuss the background and rules of two or more events on one card. Each card should have a label at the top that specifies what that card is about. It should also contain one or more graphics that relate specifically to the information on that card. Each graphic must have the source it was taken from listed directly underneath the graphic. And finally, each card should list the source from which that information was taken.
6. The final slides are to contain an Argumentative point that is to be made based on something you believe you can prove to be true from your topic and it can be backed up completely by your research
